President's Message

This month brings to a conclusion my term of office as President of the San Antonio Genealogical and Historical Society. I would like to thank our members for having given me the opportunity to serve and for the support you have shown during what has proven to be a very unique period in our lives.

Many experts are predicting that within three years, upwards of thirty percent of our country's non-profits will fail to survive COVID-19. This is due to a variety of issues either directly caused or exacerbated by the pandemic, ranging from poor management and lack of donations to changes in the life styles and habits of the general population. I am pleased to report to you that, as of this writing, SAGHS will not be one of the ones to fail. Thanks to the generosity of Yvette Dwyer, we are in great shape financially. And thanks to my fellow officers who have served with me, our membership has grown at a healthy rate over each of these two years.

These officers deserve thanks and recognition, especially those who will now be stepping aside after one term: First Vice-President Barbara Froebel, who is now the incoming President (for the third time); Second Vice-President Nancy Mabie, who as Membership Chair has worked tirelessly to grow our Society; Third-Vice-President Bill Myers, who has served diligently as Finance Chair, working with our financial advisor to ensure that the funds from the Dwyer Estate will continue to provide a secure investment portfolio for our future; Recording Secretary Carole McBee, who has done a magnificent job writing the minutes of both our Board Meetings and our General Membership Meetings; and, last but not least, Treasurer Pat Merk, who is the one officer who will remain in place for a second term.

I would also like to thank all of the volunteers who have given their time as librarians, instructors, committee members, and all of the many behind the scenes jobs that must be done in order for our Society to operate and prosper. You are the true backbone of SAGHS, and it is because of your efforts that we will not be among the thirty percent to fall to the pandemic.

I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible at our Founders' Day Luncheon on June 19th.

Steve Mabie

MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL TIME

2021-2022 Membership Dues

This message is for those members whose memberships will be expiring on June 30, 2021.

On May 9, I sent emails to more than 155 members, advising them that their memberships will be expiring soon. Happily, as of May 27, thirty-five (35) of these members have renewed for the 2021-2022 membership year that begins on July 1.

For the other 120 members, the Membership Renewal Form is attached to this newsletter. Please print the form and mail or bring the form with your check to SAGHS, 911 Melissa Dr., San Antonio, TX 78213-2024.

If you prefer to pay online using PayPal or your major credit card, please go to the "Members Only" tab of the SAGHS website at https://txsaghs.org/members.php. You will then log in using your username and password.

Expiring members will see a red bar at the top of the webpage that says, “Your membership will expire in XX days at midnight. You may renew your membership online by going to the ‘Your Profile’ page.”

We really want you back for the 2021-2022 membership year and hope you will choose to renew your membership soon.

Unfortunately, all members, who have not renewed their memberships by August 31, will be removed from our membership rolls and will no longer be SAGHS members in good standing.

If you have any questions, please email me at membership@txsaghs.org or call (210) 490-9997.

Abstracting Documents

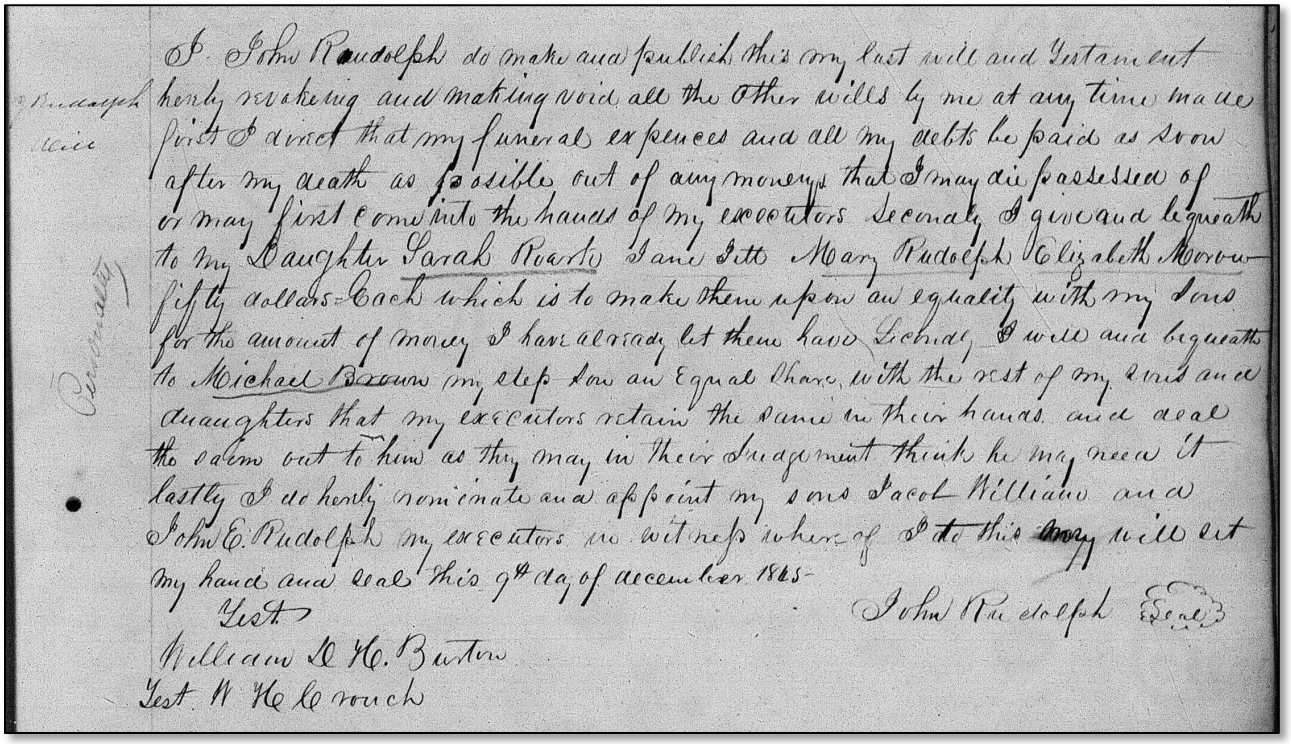

"Abstracting is a specialized form of note taking that produces a concise statement of the important facts given in a document."[1] Abstracts are especially helpful when researching large numbers of documents such as a series of deeds. At first you may be unsure what to include in your abstract, but after doing several it gets easier. Here are the basics:

- As with transcriptions, it is good practice to first record the details about the document itself at the top of the page. This is not part of the transcription and should be italicized. It should include the type of document, where it is located, dates written, recorded, proved, etc. See the example below. Alternatively provide a citation.
- Try to write the abstract in one sitting to better focus on all the details.
- Keep the same order, wording, and punctuation as in the original document.
- Record all names as written using uppercase letters two points smaller than the type in the body of the document. If names are abbreviated keep the same spelling.
- Although you might know a list of three names is three separate individuals because you are familiar with the family, it would be incorrect to add commas to separate the names. You can include that information in your analysis section.
- Be familiar with the laws of the time and place regarding the type of document you are abstracting. Know what the terminology means and how it applies to your target person. For example, the will shown below does not begin with the typical phrase "In the name of God Amen." This could mean that the testator was a Quaker or belonged to a group that did not approve of taking oaths. It is necessary to compare it to other wills of the same time and place and/or find out more about the testator's religion.
- For deeds, include the legal description of the land even if lengthy.
- Record signatures exactly as they are in the document. If an X is recorded as someone's signature indicate it as "John (his mark) Doe." And remember, the signature is the clerk's copy of how the person signed the document and is not the original signature in most cases.
- Using your word-for-word transcription, identify the boilerplate, or formula wording, and the unnecessary language of the document. Boilerplate is the standardized text found in legal documents and is different in deeds, contracts, wills, etc. You can cross through or highlight the boilerplate on your transcription. See the example below. It is better to include too much rather than not enough information.

[1] Helen F. M. Leary, North Carolina Research: Genealogy and Local History (Raleigh: North Carolina Genealogical Society, 1996), 106.

- After writing the abstract check the original document or transcription once again to ensure you recorded all the pertinent data.
